Lamb Weston Announces Gerardo Scheufler as Senior Vice President and Chief Supply Chain Officer, Rick Martin to Retire

August 5, 2019

EAGLE, Idaho--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Lamb Weston Holdings, Inc. (NYSE: LW) announced today that Rick Martin, SVP and Chief Supply Chain Officer will be retiring from his role as Chief Supply Chain Officer, effective Aug. 12, 2019. The company has named Gerardo Scheufler as its new Senior Vice President and Chief Supply Chain Officer, beginning Aug. 12, 2019.

Scheufler brings more than 25 years of Supply Chain experience to the role. Most recently he was the Vice President of Global Operations at Mondelez International, Inc., where he oversaw a major global restructuring program to optimize the global supply chain footprint, including the manufacturing, customer service, quality, logistics, health, safety and environment, and innovation functions. Prior to his role at Mondelez, he spent more than 20 years at Procter & Gamble in a variety of roles of increasing responsibility.

“Gerardo will be a great addition to Lamb Weston and our executive team,” said Tom Werner, CEO Lamb Weston. “The depth and breadth of his experience leading global supply chain organizations will be an asset to the company as we make progress against our strategic plan. Rick has been a tremendous asset to this company over the last 25 years, and I’m especially grateful for his leadership through the last three years as we transitioned into a stand-alone public company. We wish him well in his retirement,” said Werner.
