

Lamb Weston to Close Munro, Argentina Plant, Consolidating Latin America Production to State-of-the-Art Mar del Plata Facility

January 08, 2026

Munro closure reflects ongoing strategy to improve profitability and operating and capital efficiency across Lamb Weston's global manufacturing network

EAGLE, Idaho--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Lamb Weston Holdings, Inc. (NYSE: LW) announced today plans to close its Munro, Argentina plant and consolidate production for the Latin America region to its new, modern facility in Mar del Plata, Argentina.

"These actions are part of our broader strategy to improve profitability and enhance operational efficiency across our global manufacturing network. Effectively managing costs across our supply chain is critical to delivering value to customers, while enabling us to prioritize investments that modernize physical assets and keep operations efficient, resilient and ready for future growth," said Chief Supply Chain Officer, Scott Smith.

The approximate 100 employees impacted by the Munro closure will be supported by the company in accordance with local requirements and regulations.

In addition to the Munro closure, the company has announced plans to close its production facility in the Netherlands.

These strategic actions are part of the company's ongoing execution of its strategy to improve profitability by prioritizing markets and channels, strengthening customer partnerships, and setting the pace for innovation.
