

Lamb Weston's European Joint Venture Announces Acquisition of Oerlemans Foods' Potato Division

April 26, 2017

The acquisition includes a manufacturing facility in the Netherlands that will add 185 million pounds of capacity

EAGLE, Idaho--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Lamb Weston Holdings, Inc. (NYSE: LW) announced today that its European joint venture, Lamb-Weston/Meijer v.o.f., has signed an agreement to acquire the potato division of Oerlemans Foods Nederland B.V. The acquisition includes a frozen potato processing facility in Broekhuizen, Netherlands, and is expected to be completed later this year.

“Our partnership with Lamb-Weston/Meijer, together with our operations in North America, allows us to reach customers around the world from key locations in the United States and Europe,” said Tom Werner, CEO, Lamb Weston. “This strategic acquisition is consistent with our investments to strengthen our position in the global industry, and to better support the increasing demand for frozen potato products and growth ambitions of our customers in Europe and abroad.”

Lamb-Weston/Meijer’s acquisition will add 185 million pounds of production capacity to its existing network, and will provide opportunities for further expansion. Upon completion of the acquisition, Lamb-Weston/Meijer will have four production sites in the Netherlands, as well as one in the
